Two Capital Boys Held After Guns Are Found In Car

Returned To Face Charges Of Burglary From Capital Stores

Two 16 year old Sacramento youths, Jerry Simmons and Robert Venn, were being held here Monday following their arrest by State Patrolman Bud Meixner and Deputy Sheriff Emery Lander on charges of driving a stolen car and having concealed weapons in the vehicle.

According to Lander, Meixner stopped the car for a routine check and questioning of the two boys led to admission, the officers said, that the car had been stolen in Sacramento Sunday night.

The officers also said the boys admitted taking the two weapons, a .38 and .32 calibre revolver from a Sacramento hardware store, having broken into the store to get the guns and ammunition.

The two guns were found under a seat in the car.

Sacramento officers were scheduled to come for the pair Tuesday and will question them regarding other robberies, including the looting of newspaper vending machines in the Sacramento area. Lander said the boys admitted the latter crime.

Permit Is Granted To Service Station

The Nevada County Planning Commisison at its November 30 meeting granted a use permit to the Shell Oil Company to build a service station on a piece of land at the junction of the new freeway and Highway 89 just north of Donner Creek, at a cost of $10,000.

A use permit was also granted to Harold Welch to build a service station to consist of pumps in front of the main entrance to Donner Lake Lodge.

The commission went on record as favoring the zoning of the Donner Lake area as requested in petitions that had been circulated by local residents. However, there is a new ordinance passed by the board of supervisors on November 17 revising and simplifying the method of zoning by initiating such a move on the part of the planning commission and a resolution will be introduced at the next meeting of the board proposing that the zoning of Donner Lake and further hearing on the matter has been tentatively set for January 11 in the Donner Lake area at a time and place to be decided upon.

Official notice of this hearing will be given at a later date in the Sierra Sun.

Considerable discussion took place regarding methods and procedures to be followed in applying for land use permits and the committee, headed by County Clerk John T. Trauner, was requested to bring in a suggestion at the next meeting of the board.

It was also proposed that all interested firms will be given cards to be posted in their places of business notifying all parties concerned of the need for such permits and the procedures to obtain them.

GROUP PURCHASES BIG TRACT AT LAKE

RENO—Purchase of 9,000 acres of choice Lake Tahoe property at Crystal Bay by a group of investors from Hawaii, Oklahoma and Kansas has been completed, Johnie T. Patton, real estate broker, announced today.

Total price paid to Captain George Whittell for the land was $5,000,000. Patton said the deed was delivered to the new owners and recorded Monday following payment to Whittell in cash.

Nearly two miles of undeveloped Tahoe lake frontage are included in the property, extending from a point approximately two miles east of the Nevada-Califfornia state line to the southern end of Incline Beach. Incline Trailer Park and the existing lake front homes were not purchased.

Contained in the parcel are 22 miles of state highways, including the new Mt. Rose Highway now in final stages of construction. The property is covered with excellent stand of timber, and offers a sweeping view of the Lake Tahoe from most points within its boundaries.

The annual meeting of the California-Nevada Interscholastic Ski Federation was held at Reno High School on December 5. Representatives from the high schools participating in this federation met to discuss plans for forthcoming years as well as the specific plans for this year.

Elections were held with the following results:

The various schools discussed their plans for the coming ski season. The possibility of planning ski days which would take care of competition for many students was discussed.

PROSPECTIVE JURORS MAY SUBMIT NAMES

Residents throughout the county are being asked to submit their names and addresses to their supervisor if they are interested in engaging in duty as members of superior court juries during 1960.

Residents of this area should submit their names to Supervisor H. G. Loehr.

This request stemmed from an order in the superior court for the supervisors to provide a list of 400 prospective jurors for 1960 jury duty. While the jury list is made up of names suggested by the supervisors, they are willing to be advised by the men and women of their district that they would be willing to serve.

The list must be available by the first of the year and the list is selected by population percentages from the five supervisorial districts.

Chamber Delays Election, Retains Current Officers

Dolley Remains As Head Of Booster Group In District

Due to the fact that the 1960 Olympic Winter Games are only a few weeks ahead and because other community projects are well advanced and need completion, the directors of the Truckee Donner Chamber of Commerce yesterday voted to delay elections until the first meeting in March.

This leaves the president N. F. Dolley and Vice President Zeph Rose in charge of the chamber for the next three months at least.

In other action yesterday the chamber voted to support a resolution prepared by Cecil Edmunds requesting that in considering the building of a flood control dam on Martis Creek that the bureau of reclamation and the engineers give more consideration to the benefits of the people in the place of origin.

He called attention to the fact that too little thought has been given the power potential for this area and that the fish and wildlife has been permitted to deteriorate to a great degree under current reclamation planning. Edmunds will represent the chamber at a hearing in Reno today on the proposed Martis project.

Rev. George Symons offered a suggestion which met with wholehearted approval. That was to stage a spring festival and fair in the Truckee area to bring out more forcefully the commercial and recreational advantages of the area. Symons was named by President Dolley to give further study to the project.

Arrangements are being made with the division of highways to remove barriers that have temporarily closed this newly completed section of freeway.

A welcome is extended to all interested local residents to attend the opening and inspect the facilities of this new station.

Due to the many road nets and interchanges in this area, the present inspection station will continue operations.

Senior Inspector Robert P. Roth will be in charge of both inspection stations and an addition of four inspectors will be added to the present crew of eleven men.

KING RESIGNS POST ON UTILITY BOARD

KINGS BEACH—At the meeting of the board of directors of the North Tahoe Public Utility District on December 1 the resignation of L. Cedric Macabee, district engineer, was accepted. The resignation had been presented at a previous meeting and is effective June 30, 1960 at the expiration of the present contract dealing with annexations and the George W. Miller contract.

The district entered into a contract with Faulkners, Inc., for installation of a heat exchanger in the digester to prevent odors and provide better results. The gasses will be burned as they come from the digester with a gas burner. The project is near complete.

Joe King, a long-time member of the board submitted his resignation and it was accepted with regrets. A letter was sent to King thanking him for his many years of service on the board. Willis O. Mizner was selected to replace King for the unexpired term.

While the board regretted the defeat of the water bonds, it was the consensus of opinion that the matter would again be brought to the voters. They felt this is the only way taxes can be reduced and permit the community to expand. They contend that passage of the bonds to permit the required work would reduce fire insurance and water rates in time to come.

BERKELEY MAN GETS FINE FOR TREE CUT

Gene Alden of Berkeley was fined $150 on December 4 in Judge Harry Charrison's district court in Tahoe City. Alden was charged with cutting and removing Christmas trees without first getting a written permit from the landowner and filing notarized copies with the local constable and the Forest Service.

David Elwyn Shipley, 27, was taken into custody here about 1 p. m. Sunday on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon and for investigation by Reno authorities.

The report was made to the quarantine station and Deputies Leo Zander and Emery Lander were notified. The train was stopped in the yard here and the two officers accompanied by State Patrolman Martin Sturcke searched the train.

Lander found Shipley sound asleep on top a cattle car and the latter offered no resistance when the fully loaded gun was removed from his belt and he was taken into custody.

Low Offer Made County For Site Of New Building

Joseph Offers Choice Site For $15,000 Near Hospital

Although the board of supervisors apparently looked with favor upon an offer made by Richard Joseph, well known Truckee resident and property owner, to sell one and a half acres of choice property for $15,000 for the purpose of erecting a county building, no official action was taken at last week's meeting.

Joseph made a substantial reduction in the market price of the land in order that the eastern end of the county can enjoy the benefits of a county office.

Aside from the offer of $15,000, Joseph said he would deed a 60-foot right of way around the other two sides of the tract to give it a four-street boundary.

The land in question is located near the James McIver property about midway between the main part of Truckee and the Gateway shopping area.

Supervisors, while agreeing that the site is ideal for the purpose desired, they did not wish to take action until they have an opportunity to scan it more closely.

The site is so located that despite the building date for a county building with offices for state and federal officers, the county could not go wrong money-wise.

The tract is now serviced with power, water and sewer facilities and aside from minor grading is ready for building if and when the go-ahead is given.

CITIZENS GROUP IN STUDY OF ENGLISH

The study of English in the secondary schools was the subject under discussion at the Citizens' Committee Meeting held December 2 at the local high school. The meeting was led and moderated by Dr. Helen Strickland, secondary school curriculum moderator from the Placer County superintendent's office. Dr. Strickland substituted for William Sciutto, the regular moderator, who was absent because of illness.

Guests at the meeting, members of the high school English faculty were: Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart, Eugene Goodrich,Mr. and Mrs. Weston Sauby, Kenneth Stewart and Joor Bol.

At least one recommendation was made by those present. It was suggested that work in English composition, at both the elementary and the high school level, be stepped up and that students be required to hand in more themes than heretofore.

The general plan of reading at the secondary level was also discussed, and some argument ensued as to what constitutes a "classic" and whether there should be a re-evaluation of so-called "classics" as required reading for high school students. It was suggested that certain classics be made required reading at the 6th, 7th and 8th grade levels.

The committee will meet again after the first of the year.

PANEL DISCUSSION IS PROPOSED FOR MEET

DONNER SUMMIT NEWS

By DONNA I. POWER

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

The Sierra Club of Norden celebrated this week its twenty-fifth anniversary. The festivities began when the 130 club members in attendance sat down to a gala dinner featuring "Norden Style" baked American ham, complemented with other specially prepared dishes from the Sierra Club's own kitchen where Diana Clayton is head chef. Following dinner, the group assembled for a message from Keith Lummis, who is manager at Clair Tappaan Lodge. Chairman of the lodge committee, Frank Shoemaker, was master of ceremonies for the program which followed. The program included commentaries from members of work parties during the years from 1934 to 1940 who were the honored guests. It was pointed out that the lodge located on forest service land has been in existence since 1934 and since that time has been under construction and reconstruction which is done entirely by membership volunteer labor. Movies and slides picturing construction and many memorable events of the past years were shown in the Little Theatre at the conclusion of the evening. This year the Sierra Club became the oldest club in the area.

BARTUCCO PASSES

Many were shocked to learn of the passing of John Bartucco of Kingvale. While in Reno Saturday afternoon 54 year old Bartucco passed away suddenly as the result of a heart attack. Together with his son-in-law, Tommy Heckle, Bartucco operated the business at Wofford's Motel in Kingvale. The body has been taken to Sacramento where funeral services will be held Thursday. Future plans for the motel are yet indefinite.

Already the group has begun to learn basic square dance calls. Those present showed enthusiasm and are looking forward to dancing with more of their friends on future Monday evenings.

WEATHER

CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Donner Community Club has set December 18 as the date for their annual Christmas party to be held in the Donner Trail School. Final plans for the party were made at Thursdays meeting of the board of directors of the Donner Community Club held in the home of president, Allen West.

WORK PROGRESSING ON TAHOE FISHERIES

Senator Ronald G. "Ron" Cameron, seventh senatorial district, of Auburn, and Assemblyman Paul Lunardi, sixth assembly district, of Roseville, announced today that work is proceeding on their resolution in regard to the fisheries at Lake Tahoe.

William E. Warne, director of the department of fish and game, has stated that plans for the Tahoe fisheries program are shaping up very nicely and that the department hopes to get it off to a good start early in the next fiscal year.

Warne stated that there is a $65,000 item in the 1960-61 budget for the fisheries study. Of this $20,000 is for planting fish and the department hopes to provide almost as much again in the way of fish for experiments without further increasing the hatchery budget. Warne thinks this can be done through increased efficiency and slight cutbacks of catchable trout allotments for less desirable waters. The remaining $45,000 is for the manpower necessary to mark the experimental fish, to check returns from the various experiments, and to carry on the other phases of the study cited in the resolution.

Six additional hatchery ponds will be needed to rear the fish for Tahoe and the department has a capital outlay item in the 1960-61 budget for this also.

The new ponds will be at San Joaquin Hatchery. However, it is planned to rear the Tahoe fish at Moccasin Creek Hatchery which is closer, and to transfer some of the regular catchable trout production from Moccasin Creek to San Joaquin to make room for the Tahoe fish.

The department of fish and game is working closely with the Nevada Department which hopes to carry on a program which will mesh with ours.

DONNER TRAIL SCHOOL

The primary students of the Donner Trail School will begin this week working to prepare their portion of the Christmas program to be presented December 18 at the Donner Community Club annual Christmas party. The production will be an original story developed by the children and based on the nursery rhyme of the "Old Woman Who Lived in the Shoe." The students of these grades will also begin construction this week of gifts which their mothers and fathers will find under the Christmas tree.

To California...

a glass of beer is many things

Like the Motion Picture Industry, the world of Television belongs in fabulous Hollywood. And so does the beverage of moderation—bright, golden beer.

Beer is most Californians' choice for truly light refreshment all year 'round—and more than that. To many of this state's farmers beer stands for a good livelihood. Last year alone, the Brewing Industry purchased close to 100% of California-produced hops, more than one-third of the total barley crop. This is one more important reason why beer means better living for Californians.

A large crowd watched the Paiute ceremonial snow dance at Squaw Valley last week and the event attracted national publicity. Too bad the French couple who visited the valley during the week couldn't have been there. They were looking for Indians at Squaw Valley (what's in a name?) A helpful shop owner sent them along to the Stewart reservation in Nevada.

The beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Smith at Swiss Village on Highway 89 is almost complete and the handsome outside lights around the large patio are most effective. The Smiths are from San Jose.

One of the ice rinks at Squaw Valley will be flooded this week and ready for skating soon. Ice is thick on Ward Creek and Meeks Creek and about 6 inches thick at McKinney Lake.

Eve and Tony Donadio of Sky Lodge christened their new home north of Tahoe City with an open house for their many friends.

Bernard Barrett of Tahoe City is manager of the new Lucky Seven gas station next door to the fire house. He opened for business last weekend. The Barretts also operate the B&B appliance shop at the Tahoe Y.

The Carol Skinners of Lodi spent a weekend at their homewood place.

West shore highway 89 has been almost as busy as it is in the summer these past two weeks. Ideal weather and dry roads seems to be luring residents and visitors in great numbers.

The Edwin I. Iversons of Skyland are staying in this winter, but are planning a trip to Modesto to visit their son asd his family. Mrs. Iverson had just finished a gay red crocheted centerpiece for the Christmas table which granddaughter Donna will use with pine cones and moss from Tahoe. Dr. R. K. Iverson, whose house is next door to his brother, is back as chief surgeon in Yuba City clinic for the winter. Originally from Minnesota, Mrs. Iverson says Tahoe is best of all, after two summers in Alaska and two winters in Modesto.

Henry Springer and son George of Palo Alto came up to help work on their new house at Skyland and the roof ought to go on this week.

Also enjoying the magic fall weather at Skyland recently were the Stronems of Vacaville who have a charming Japanese-designed house. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith are also staying at Skyland this winter.

Austria Haus at Squaw Valley will feature an exhibit opening Christmas to publicize the winter games at Innsbruck in 1964. The building will be headquarters for the Austrian ski team, press receptions and showings of color films of skiing in Austria. Free souvenirs will be given to visitors. This is the first exhibit of its kind ever established on an Olympic site advertising the succeeding winter games.

Jim edged out a large group of veteran international aces in the qualification meets last February. Jimmy's parents, just back from driving him east, reported a wonderful trip and a good time at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs.

WEATHER

Sunday morning and it is beautiful. At 6 a. m. 10 degrees at Kings Beach and by noon it was brilliant as it is this Monday noon, almost like spring. No precipitation is in sight.

LOGGERS

Our Truckee short cut is sure taking a beating by the heavily loaded logging trucks continuously going over it. It has been such a pleasure to drive over the long awaited improvement.

WEE BIT OF CUDDLE

Had a card from Bill and Betty Hoefer now in Pasadena, telling us of the arrival of a bouncing baby son (William Fredrick) and of course he is the sweetest there ever was. Congratulations to them.

IN FLORIDA

Mrs. Eda Judy is still enjoying her visit with the Jake Glunts, but it is pretty hot there according to Carol Howard, her daughter and Kings Beach postmaster.

SURPRISE PARTY

A surprise birthday party was given to Reese Hester last Saturday night by his daughter, Charlene. Many friends were there to help celebrate and lovely refreshments were served. Many more happy birthdays to you Reese.

NEW STATION

A new 'U Save' gas station has opened at the corner of the Truckee short cut.

BOWLING ALLEY

The bowling alley building is fast becoming a reality now. It is a large steel constructed structure. It will certainly be a popular place for young an old and something that has long been hoped for.

TO GLENDALE

Dee and Meredith Siple have gone down to Glendale. Meredith says he will go to a school on mechanics for operating the bowling alley. They hope to return to the lake as soon as possible.

CHRISTMAS TREES

Beautifully lighted Christmas trees are already up along the highway and some of the side streets—sure is nice and we hope there will be lots more to brighten this part of the lake up. Let's work on it.

HAPPY BIRTHDAYS

Many happy returns of the day were wished for my daughter, Margie, whose birthday was last Sunday. Also to Jack Farris on the same day.

SAD NEWS

The sad news has been late reaching us of the passing away of a dearly loved friend. Mrs. Anna Blaue passed away on November 12 at her sisters home in Ventura. Little Anna, (or as she was called, 'the little Globe Trotter') was a great church worker and will be missed by many, many friends at Tahoe Vista and Kings Beach.

report meeting last week on the results of efforts to enlarge the church congregation. New pledges are coming in and the committee reports further progress is continuing on this drive.

Tahoe City Brownies spent last week's meeting making Olympic insignia pins which they will wear proudly on their uniforms.

The sound of music is heard in all grades at Tahoe Lake School these days. Each grade will have its own choir for the Christmas program. The Jim Reynolds' choir consisting of outstanding voices from the entire school will star this season. Second grade mothers were at work on the black robes with white collars for the choir members.

Fire Chief Al Henry of Tahoe City was the only member of his department able to make the Christmas party sponsored by the Truckee Firettes at Smart's last Saturday night for Truckee, Tahoe City and Donner Lake Volunteer Fire Department members and their wives. Al reported a most enjoyable evening and regretted that the rest of his team were shanghaied by the 49-er game in San Francisco and the Elks party at Stateline.

LAKE LEVEL

TAHOE CITY—On Monday the level of Lake Tahoe was reported at 6225.29 fet, subject to revision, and seven gates into the Truckee River were partially open. With no precipitation recorded, the temperature varied from 18 to 47 degrees during the week.

NEW FLAG

A few weeks ago the Tahoe Judicial District Court had the misfortune for someone taking the big flag off the wall. To our great surprise and pleasure the members of the Community Center at Tahoe City presented the judge and his secretary with the most beautiful pure silk flag which carries 50 stars and is on a standard, the flag being edged with a gold fringe and also carries a gold eagle on top. Not only members of the court room but all members of Placer County sincerely appreciate the thoughtfulness of the citizens of Tahoe City. This will be an added attraction to the new court which is rapidly being completed.

RECOVERING

Jerry Plevel of Kings Beach reports that his wife who has been away for several weeks after having a serious operation is recovering nicely and is now back up here. Jerry says he sure had a time baby sitting with their five children for the past two months.

OLYMPIC SNOW AND ICE STATUE—An ice hockey goaltender is immortalized in snow and ice—as are other winter sports participants—in 16-foot snow statues which will line the Avenue of the Athletes at the VIII Olympic Winter Games at Squaw Valley, Calif., Feb. 18-28, 1960. Cities throughout the state are being asked to sponsor the individual statues. This small-scale model was designed by the Pageantry Committee at Walt Disney Studios in Burbank, Calif. For tickets and housing write Olympic Winter Games, San Francisco, Calif.

ICE STATUES WILL BE GAMES FEATURE

SQUAW VALLEY—From a gay carnival at Dartmouth College, New Hampshire, to the broad avenue of the athletes at the VIII Olympic Winter Games in Squaw Valley, California.

That's the beginning—and end—of a unique story concerning the creation of 30 massive snow statues, the pride and joy of Walt Disney, the pageantry director of the VIII Olympic Winter Games here February 18-28.

The towering 16-feet high statues molded in snow and ice over a steel base will depict athletes in each of the winter sports.

It will mark the first time these snow figures will be utilized for this international event, although historic parallels exist in the use of gold, marble and bronze statues dedicated by the ancient Greek to their much-revered Olympic champions.

The link between Dartmouth and Squaw Valley came about when Disney first suggested the statues for the games.

Disney Art Director John Hench visited Dartmouth winter carnival last February 20 to investigate the techniques used there in assembling snow statues. Hench also visited the winter carnival at Quebec in Eastern Canada to garner additional data for his long-term Olympic project.

Squaw Valley's weather offered problems. Here, the temperatures during February range from zero to as high as 50 degrees. This fact had to be taken into account in designing the snow statues, to insure against melting.

Structurally, the statues consist of a metal frame base seven feet high. A log-pole in the center is driven into the ground to insure stability. An intricate weaving of wire mesh and straps puts "body" into the base. The figures will be an additional nine feet high.

The prototype was constructed by Floats Incorporated of El Monte, California which specializes in elaborate creations for such events as the Pasadenda Tournament of Roses.

There will be 30 statues epicting cross-country skiers, ski jumpers, Alpine skiers, figure skaters, spee skaters and hockey players.

California cities and communities are being asked to cooperate in this once-in-a-lifetime project by donating the statues as their contribution towards the games. It also is a way of extending a personal community welcome to the athletes and to the watching TV millions.

Disney's sales promotion expert, Edsel Curry, is leading the campaign to integrate the California-Nevada communities' participation.

Cities already accepting include Pasadena, Palm Springs, Burbank and Inglewood. Each contributed $2,000 to cover the cost of the snow statue which will bear the name of their community.

In some cases, cities have contacted local industry to help underwrite the cost.

Historically, the use of statues to beautify the Olympic Games was first noted in 776 B. C., when likenesses of individual victors were formed.

With Disney's ingenuity transforming an ancient project into a modern miracle, the fabulous Snow Statues will become a spectacular part of the Winter Games for the first time—at Squaw Valley, California, 1960.

The heaviest rainfall in the United States is registered at Wynooche, Washington, in the Olympic Mountains, averaging 141 inches, annually.

DONNER DOINGS

By VIRGINIA O'BEAR

Skin divers from the Commodore Underwater Service of Sacramento found an old time buckboard Sunday in Donner Lake. The divers were in the icy waters for 45 minutes before they brought the buckboard to the surface and it was still intact. It was found 100 feet from the shore and 50 feet deep across the highway from the Ted Franklin home near the west end of Donner Lake. It was found by Norman Hewlett, Mel Pitts, Frank Sheets, Ed Hart and Dick Felt. All of these men were in the navy and some were frogmen during World War 2 and the Korean War. They all live in Sacramento and will have the buckboard on display at the home of Norman Hewlett at 312 Indiana Avenue in North Sacramento. Hewlett will welcome anyone interested in seeing the buckboard or in skin diving as they have many more trips planned for Donner Lake because they said there are many things that look interesting at the bottom of Donner Lake.

Donner Lake Volunteer Fire Department has a new fire chief. Deputy Sheriff Emery Lander resigned several months ago when he moved to Gateway with his family so since he felt the chief should be a local Donner resident, the fire department chose James (Hap) Warnke to take his place. Hap will be an efficient fire chief and I'm sure will have the cooperation of all the firemen.

The Donner Lake Resorts met for dinner and a business meeting at Donner Lake Lodge Sunday evening and many things were accomplished. The next meeting is scheduled for January 3 at the same place and everyone in business at Donner Lake will be welcomed.

Mr. and Mrs. William Householder are visiting with Mrs. Anita Allison until January then they will return to Divisa, Panama where they will make their home for another two years. Householder is Mrs. Allison's brother and works for the government on the Point Four Program. Their two children, Julie and Jerry are attending the Truckee elementary school until January and like it here very much.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Donner Lake Volunteer Fire Department will meet next Thursday night on December 17 at Donner Lake Lodge. It promises to be a delightful Christmas party and dinner and everyone attending is asked to bring a gift not to cost more than $1. Mrs. Virgil Harris, Mrs. R. L. Harris and Mrs. L. Brooke are hostesses for the evening and will provide a little entertainment for the many members who are expected to join in with the Christmas spirit.

A popular young lady from Donner Lake was married Saturday in Reno and is now living in the James (Hap) Warnke home at the foothills of Donner Summit. She is the former Jovce Slate and now that she is Mrs. George Davis. I am sure that all of their friends wish them both a long life together with lots of happiness.

Don't forget, vou parents at Donner Lake. Monday night is P. T. A. night and we should all go and let our children know we are behind them 100 per cent. A short program of entertainment is planned after the business meeting, so let's all go and help our children win the banner for their room. Fathers count two points, so come on Dads . . . go!

The Nevada County Planning Commission will hold their next meeting on January 11 and will be in this area. Time and place will be announced next week and it is hoped that all home owners as well as business people will attend this meeting because it is for the benefit of all since it concerns zoning Donner Lake. A new ordinance has just been passed and goes into effect December 17, 1959. Will have more particulars on it next week.

When John McKinney, who had tramped the shores of Tahoe for over a quarter of a century, was ready to settle down he chose the West Shore of Lake Tahoe where the creek which now bears his name feeds into the Lake. There he built and operated Hunter's Lodge on the location he considered the choicest on the Lake.

In 1920 Dave Chambers, another true pioneer of the Lake, purchased the Lodge and surrounding land, renaming the resort Chamber's Lodge.

Through a combination of luck and planning this still remains the choicest part of the Lake, unspoiled by commercialism. And though you cannot practice some of the freedoms enjoyed by McKinney (we have inside plumbing, anyway) you can swim on the same sandy beach which has been improved, cruise on the same smooth waters of the lake (but with private pier privileges McKinney never dreamed of) fish the same waters and hunt the same private forests (as members of Chamberland Beach and Mountain Club).

You can cash in on Your Luck and Chamberlands planning by buying a home or lot in Chamberlands now, the finest winter and summer development on Lake Tahoe. Terms, of course. For Information contact Max Hoff, Realtor, office in Homewood. Call LAmbert 5-7434 or JUniper 3-3002.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — If anyone from California — which has footed the major portion of the multi-million-dollar bill for the coming Olympic Winter Games at Squaw Valley—wants to know how the preparations are progressing the best place to find out is in Reno, Nev.

"We want you to think of Reno as your host city," the Reno Chamber of Commerce told a group of touring newsmen recently.

Through default on the part of northern California, this will be the case. While the state of Nevada made only a relatively small contribution toward the cost of sponsoring the games in Squaw Valley, it's apparent the Nevada area at Lake Tahoe and Reno will walk away with the lion's share of the revenues.

This is not merely a matter of proximity. Naturally, the Nevada towns can offer more in the way of recreation for the visitors. The solt machines grind away 24 hours a day and the wealthy Olympic visitor can get as little or as much action as he wishes on the various gaming tables at all hours of day or night.

The hotels and motels in the Nevada area have top-name entertainers which will help to attract the visitors.

All of which is not particularly newsworthy to anyone in the west, who probably is well aware of the attractions of western Nevada. The newsworthy part is the efforts and money being expended by the Nevada businessmen to make certain the business and money will flow their way.

While such cities as Sacramento, Roseville and Auburn—from outward appearances, at least—seem hardly aware there will be the Olympic Games in a few weeks, the Reno people have been touring the country. They are spending money and telling their story. They are well organized and have been planning the Nevada side of the affair for many months.

As for information on the coming extravaganza of sporting events, many Californians might feel a bit more comfortable about where the state's money went if they could hear a run-down on the staging of the games. Tom Walker, of the Walt Disney studios, gave the newsmen such a report, concerning the pageantry, opening ceremonies and closing ceremonies for the event, which are being handled by Disney.

Some interesting international-type problems have developed during the planning of the ceremonies, all of which will be as authentic as Disney's organization can make them. There was the problem of the original Olympic hymn.

After trying in Switzerland, Rome and Tokyo, it developed the only copy of the hymn Disney could find was a Japanese version. Thus his arrangers had to decipher the Japanese writing and do a whole new orchestartion.

Then there was the problem of the torch. This will be flown to Los Angeles and later to San Francisco and Sacramento. After being relayed by some 250 California high school athletes, it will be raced down the Squaw Valley ski course, relayed to a skater and presented in the huge ice arena.

The problem facing Disney was how to keep the eternal flame going. It developed a special chemical had been devised in Australia but they have been reluctant to part with the secret formula.

Another small headache developed in the department playing national anthems as the teams of contestants from the 30-odd nations are introduced. West Germans wanted their anthem, while East Germany wanted its song. The compromise finally reached was another melody, not the anthem of either part of Germany.

Other problems include the releasing of 2,000 pigeons and 20,000 colored balloons as part of the opening ceremonies.

YOUNG AND OLD ARE ACCIDENT VICTIMS

The very young and the senior citizen are the most frequent victims of pedestrian accidents, California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden said today while pointing out that December is always a high month for pedestrian accidents.

"The very young constitute a little more than one-fifth of California's population, but they total about two-fifths of the pedestrians who are killed or injured on our streets and highways," Crittenden continued. "At the other end of the age scale, the senior citizens make up less than a tenth of our population and about an eighth of the pedestrian accident victims."

The California Highway Patrol official noted that nearly half of all pedestrians killed or injured are committing unsafe traffic actions when hit. The most dangerous of these is crossing a street illegally.

By far the greatest ratio of "unsafe action" accidents involve children up to nine years old, Crittenden said. The senior group, 65 years and older, are relatively careful but lack the speed of activity needed to remain safe.

"During this especially dangerous period of early nightfall, many lives can be saved if motorist and pedestrian alike will exert an extra measure of carefulness," Crittenden concluded.

NO SNOW TIRES CAN TAKE CHAINS PLACE

The California Highway Patrol has adopted a regulation for testing and approving snow-tread tires to be used as replacements for tire chains but as yet no manufacturer has submitted tires to be tested.

The state legislature added a new section to the vehicle code this year permitting the use of approved snow-tread tires in place of tire chains. The law specifies that the tires must be approved by the Department of California Highway Patrol.

Brandford M. Crittenden, Commissioner of the Patrol, said the regulation provides that "snow-tread tires of a type and design manufactured for use on ice and snow as a replacement for tire chains shall be approved by the department as an alternative for tire chains upon determination that such tires, when tested, provide traction ability, stopping ability, and cornering ability equal to tire chains." It becomes effective on December 23, 1959.

"Whenever a manufacturer submits a tire we will test it and if it meets the legal requirements we will issue a certificate of approval," Crittenden declared.

The high school cafeteria, December 4, was the scene of the junior dance "Polynesian Paradise." The room was very nicely decorated in the spirit of the South Seas. Fresh fruit and a tropical punch served as refreshments. Varien Frey was crowned "Queen of Polynesia" by Tony Calcagno. Her attendants were Ellen Rich and JoAnn Pomin. Renee Hall and some of her dance students, Sandy Davis, Eileen Olson, Karel Sauby, Linda Russell, Dawn Maynard and Jennifer O'Bear, danced a medley of Hawaiian hulas. Bill Notley, Merrill Englehart, Sam Medford, and Leroy Riser performed a group hula dance unlike anything ever seen in the islands.

All of the guests wore Hawaiian style clothing; the girls wore holokus and muumuus, and the boys wore flowered shirts or beachcomber outfits.

To open the 1959-60 basketball season, a rally was held in the gym of the high school seventh period, Friday. A cute skit was given by the varsity cheerleaders. The junior varsity and varsity teams were introduced by the coaches Andy Baumgardner and Neil Gates. The varsity members are: Chuck Bergman, Dan Chandler, Merrill Englehart, Marty Kumle, Jim Loynd, Sam Medford, Bob Merica, Bill Notley, John Olinghouse, Leroy Riser, Mike Robinson, and Reg Smart.

The cheerleaders, varsity and JV, led the audience in several yells. Miss Ames, the girls' P. E. teacher, led the crowd in a snappy yell as an added attraction.

The Songleaders, in their sharp new outfits, headed some school songs, and the rally closed with the singing of the Alma Mater.

The senior tea room has opened. It is the audio visual room of the high school where students are welcome to come to dance or chat. The tea room is sponsored by the class of '60 and is for noontime recreational purposes. The room will be decorated each session, and on special days entertainment will be provided. It will be open twice a week and will be a welcome place to all on the cold winter days.

The annual Christmas program will be presented by the fine arts department in the high school gym, Thursday, December 17, starting at 8 o'clock.

The program will consist of appropriate seasonal music and drama. The community is cordially invited to attend.

INTEREST GROWS IN OLYMPICS BENEFIT

Excitement mounts in connection with VIII Olympic Winter Games benefit sponsored by the Tahoe Squaws of the Lake Tahoe-Squaw Valley area and to be held in Squaw Valley at the athletes' center on December 19.

Announcement has come from Mrs. Robert Beckman, committee chairman in charge of models, that Miss Sue Bronson, Miss California of 1959, has joined the ranks of the famous models that will be introducing the spectacular Olympic fashions to be shown during the fashion show part of the evening.

Miss Bronson won the contest held at Santa Cruz last summer, was a close contender for the Miss America crown in Atlantic City and now attends San Jose State College.

Also added to the list of famous models are the names of the glamourous "Toni Twins," formerly Eleanor and Jean Fulstone of Gardnerville, now Mrs. John Gianotti of Tahoe and Mrs. Fred Corfee, Jr., of Sacramento, respectively. Numbered among the men models will be Eric Sailer, head of Heavenly Valley ski school, Misty Cumberlege, head of Mount Rose ski school, and "Chris" Christensen, National Ski Patrol head for the Olympic Games.

The Athletes' Center, scene of the gala affair, is the largest of its kind in the Sierra and its elegant design is in perfect keeping with the ball atmosphere of the benefit. The benefit will be the only social event to be held in the Olympic Village and will enable guests to see where Olympic participants from all parts of the world will be hosted during the games.
